

A little red hen found some grains of wheat.

She asked her friends for help.
“Will you help me plant
the wheat?”
“No,” said the duck, the cat,
and the dog.

The Little Red Hen – A Story About Hard Work

The little red hen planted, watered, and harvested the wheat all by herself. Then

“No,” said the Little Red Hen.
“I will eat it all myself.”

Moral: Those who do not help have no right to share the rewards.
